Accessibility

By plane

The only airport in Prague is Vaclav Havel Airport (PRG), located about 30 minutes by car or public transport to the Eurovent office (city centre). From neighbouring countries like Austria or Germany, travelling by bus or train is a cost-effective and comfortable option.

By public transport

From Václav Havel Airport (35 min.):

- Transit shuttle buses number 119 or 322 bring you from the airport to metro stop Nádraží Veleslavín, where you take metro line A (green) towards Depo Hostivař and get off at the station Můstek. From there, it is a 3-minute walk to the Eurovent Regional Office Prague.

From Prague Central Station (10 min.):

- The best way to get to the Eurovent Regional Office Prague from the Prague Centra Station is to walk. It takes less than 10 minutes and allows you to enjoy the views of the heart of Prague.

Getting around by taxi

Local taxi services in Prague tend to be costly, corrupt, and unreliable. Instead, we recommend pre-booking the affordable Tick Tack Taxi online. A person with a sign will wait for you at the airport. All kinds of payment cards are accepted.

Another, more cost-effective option, is using the mobile applications Bolt or UBER. These services run well with an average waiting time of only 5 min.

Accommodation recommendations

The accommodation options below are recommended according to their proximity and positive reviews by our visitors:

Low price range:

Airbnb: A wide range of rooms and entire flats in close proximity of the Eurovent office is offered through Airbnb.

Prices start around 25 EUR/night. Remember to check the reviews before choosing accommodation.

Medium price range:

Hotel Belvedere Prague: Milady Horákové 19, 170 00 Prague 7, Czech Republic

Traditional four-star hotel located close to the Eurovent office but not in the very city centre. It takes 15 minutes by public transport or 25 minutes by foot to the Eurovent office.

This hotel is recommended mainly in winter months due to its lack of airconditioned rooms.

Upper price range:

Art Nouveau Palace Hotel Prague: Panská 12, 110 00 Prague 1, Czech Republic

Five-star hotel in a traditional classy style, located in the middle of the city centre of Prague, and right next to the Eurovent office (2-minute walk).
